ONGIA VOLUNTEER TERMS

By volunteering at an ONGIA event, you agree to the following.

- Professional conduct: You are representing ONGIA. Stay professional at all times, before, during and after the event, in person and online, including at any social event. Treat attendees, presenters, other volunteers, venue staff and ONGIA staff with courtesy and respect.
- Representing your organization: You also represent your own organization. You are responsible for having its approval to volunteer, and for making sure your role does not conflict with your duties there. Make clear when you are giving your own views rather than speaking for ONGIA or your organization.
- Appropriate behaviour and language: Use respectful language at all times. Harassment, discrimination, and offensive, sexual or demeaning comments, jokes or images are not acceptable, in person, in messages or on social media.
- Dress: Dress as your event lead directs. Business casual is the minimum unless you are told otherwise.
- Confidentiality: You may see or hear sensitive information, such as attendee lists, presenters' materials and what is said in sessions. Keep it confidential. Do not share it, and do not ask anyone for confidential information.
- Photos and social media: Do not post photos, video or recordings of sessions, presentation materials or attendees on social media without ONGIA's approval.
- Following direction: Follow the instructions of the event lead and ONGIA staff. Arrive on time for your shifts, and tell ONGIA right away if you can no longer attend or your plans change.
- Safety and concerns: Tell the event lead right away about any safety concern, incident or complaint. If someone is in danger, call 911 first.
- Expenses: This is a volunteer role and is unpaid. ONGIA covers only the costs it has confirmed to you in writing before the event.
- Changes and ending your role: ONGIA may change your tasks or schedule and will tell you in advance. ONGIA may end your volunteer role at any time, including if these terms are not followed.
